A SUDDEN DEATH.

O. Bergstrom Dies After Short Illness.

O. Bergstrom, familiarly known as Frank Johnson, who has for years been wharf superintendent for the Oahu Railroad and Land Company, died at his residence at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon of pneumonia. His sudden and unexpected death will be a shock to his many friends, and Mrs. Bergstrom, who, with her three children, has been visiting on the island of Hawaii, is now on her return home, unaware of her bereavement. She is expected by the Ke Au Hou today or tomorrow morning.

Mr. Bergstrom was a native of Sweden and about forty-one years of age. In his early youth he was in the United States navy and was there given the name of Frank Johnson by his comrades. The name has been a familiar one ever since. He has been in the employ of the Oahu Railroad and Land Company since 1889 and is one of its oldest employees. At the time the Queen was dethroned he went into the National Guards of Hawaii and remained in the service until Company D, of which he had risen to be captain, was mustered out. He was a member of Mystic Lodge No. 2, K. of P., and also of Le Progres Lodge of Masonry, this city.

Mr. Bergstrom had not been feeling well for a week past, and a few days ago wrote to his wife to return. He also received a letter from her saying that she herself was slightly ill. He went to the office Wednesday morning feeling about the same and left work at 5 o'clock without any complaint other than that he had not been well for some days. He took dinner with his friend, Jock McGuire, who lives next door to his own home, and left early in the evening. Later he was found in an outhouse by neighbors, unable to get to his house. He was assisted to his bed and rapidly grew worse. Dr. Galbraith, who attended him, pronounced his illness bronchial trouble and pneumonia, and all was done that was possible to aid him, but at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon he expired. It is said that the case was also complicated with heart trouble.

Friends will meet Mrs. Bergstrom when the Ke Au Hou arrives and endeavor to render the shock less severe and to comfort her in her bereavement. The funeral will be conducted under the auspices of the Masonic Lodge and the Knights of Pythias, and the military will also probably honor the memory of the retired officer.

DESIRES PURCHASE OF MARSDEN LAND

Governor Dole Will Request the Legislature to Appropriate $6,000.

In the estimates which Governor Dole will present to the Legislature will be an item for $6,000 for the purchase of the Marsden property in Nuuanu valley, upon which the Government electric light station and reservoir are located. Mr. McCandless recommended to the Governor's Council yesterday morning that the land be acquired and the Council acquiesced.

Treasurer Lansing presented the application of Mr. Peck of Hilo for permission to incorporate a private bank in the Rainy City. The bank was started after the First National Bank of Hawaii opened up a branch there. Mr. Lansing stated that at present he was very busy and did not have the time personally to look into the affairs of the present institution as required by law, and asked that he be authorized to employ a person for that purpose. The Council approved of the recommendation.

A number of petitions have been brought to Superintendent of Public Works McCandless regarding the bad condition of the sidewalks between Beretania and Hotel streets, requesting that the same be attended to by the property owners. The department will serve notice upon them to place their walks in condition for pedestrians and for the department to build them and sue the owners for payment.

The application of H. Hackfeld & Co. for a wholesale liquor license in connection with their branch house at Lahaina was referred to Sheriff Baldwin of Maui.

THE HACKMAN OUTDONE.

A Visitor Teaches Him a Lesson in the Rate Card.

The local Jehus are as a rule not wanting in the matter of gall. Yesterday, however, a stranger in the land went one of the hack-driving fraternity one better.

A man called a hack and asked to be driven from the wharf to town; he was an innocent-looking customer with large blue eyes, but, oh, he was wise. Arrived at the leaving-off point, the following instructive dialogue ensued:

"How much do I owe you?"

"A dollar and a half will about cover it."

"Why, my dear man, I intended to hire, not buy your vehicle; you must have misunderstood me."

"I might have charged you more, sir."

"What is your name, anyway?"

"They call me 'Honest' John."

"Well, I've heard of the forty thieves and I've run across thirty-nine of them, but now I flatter myself I have at last completed the tale."

"Come and have one with me, sir."

Will Plead Today.

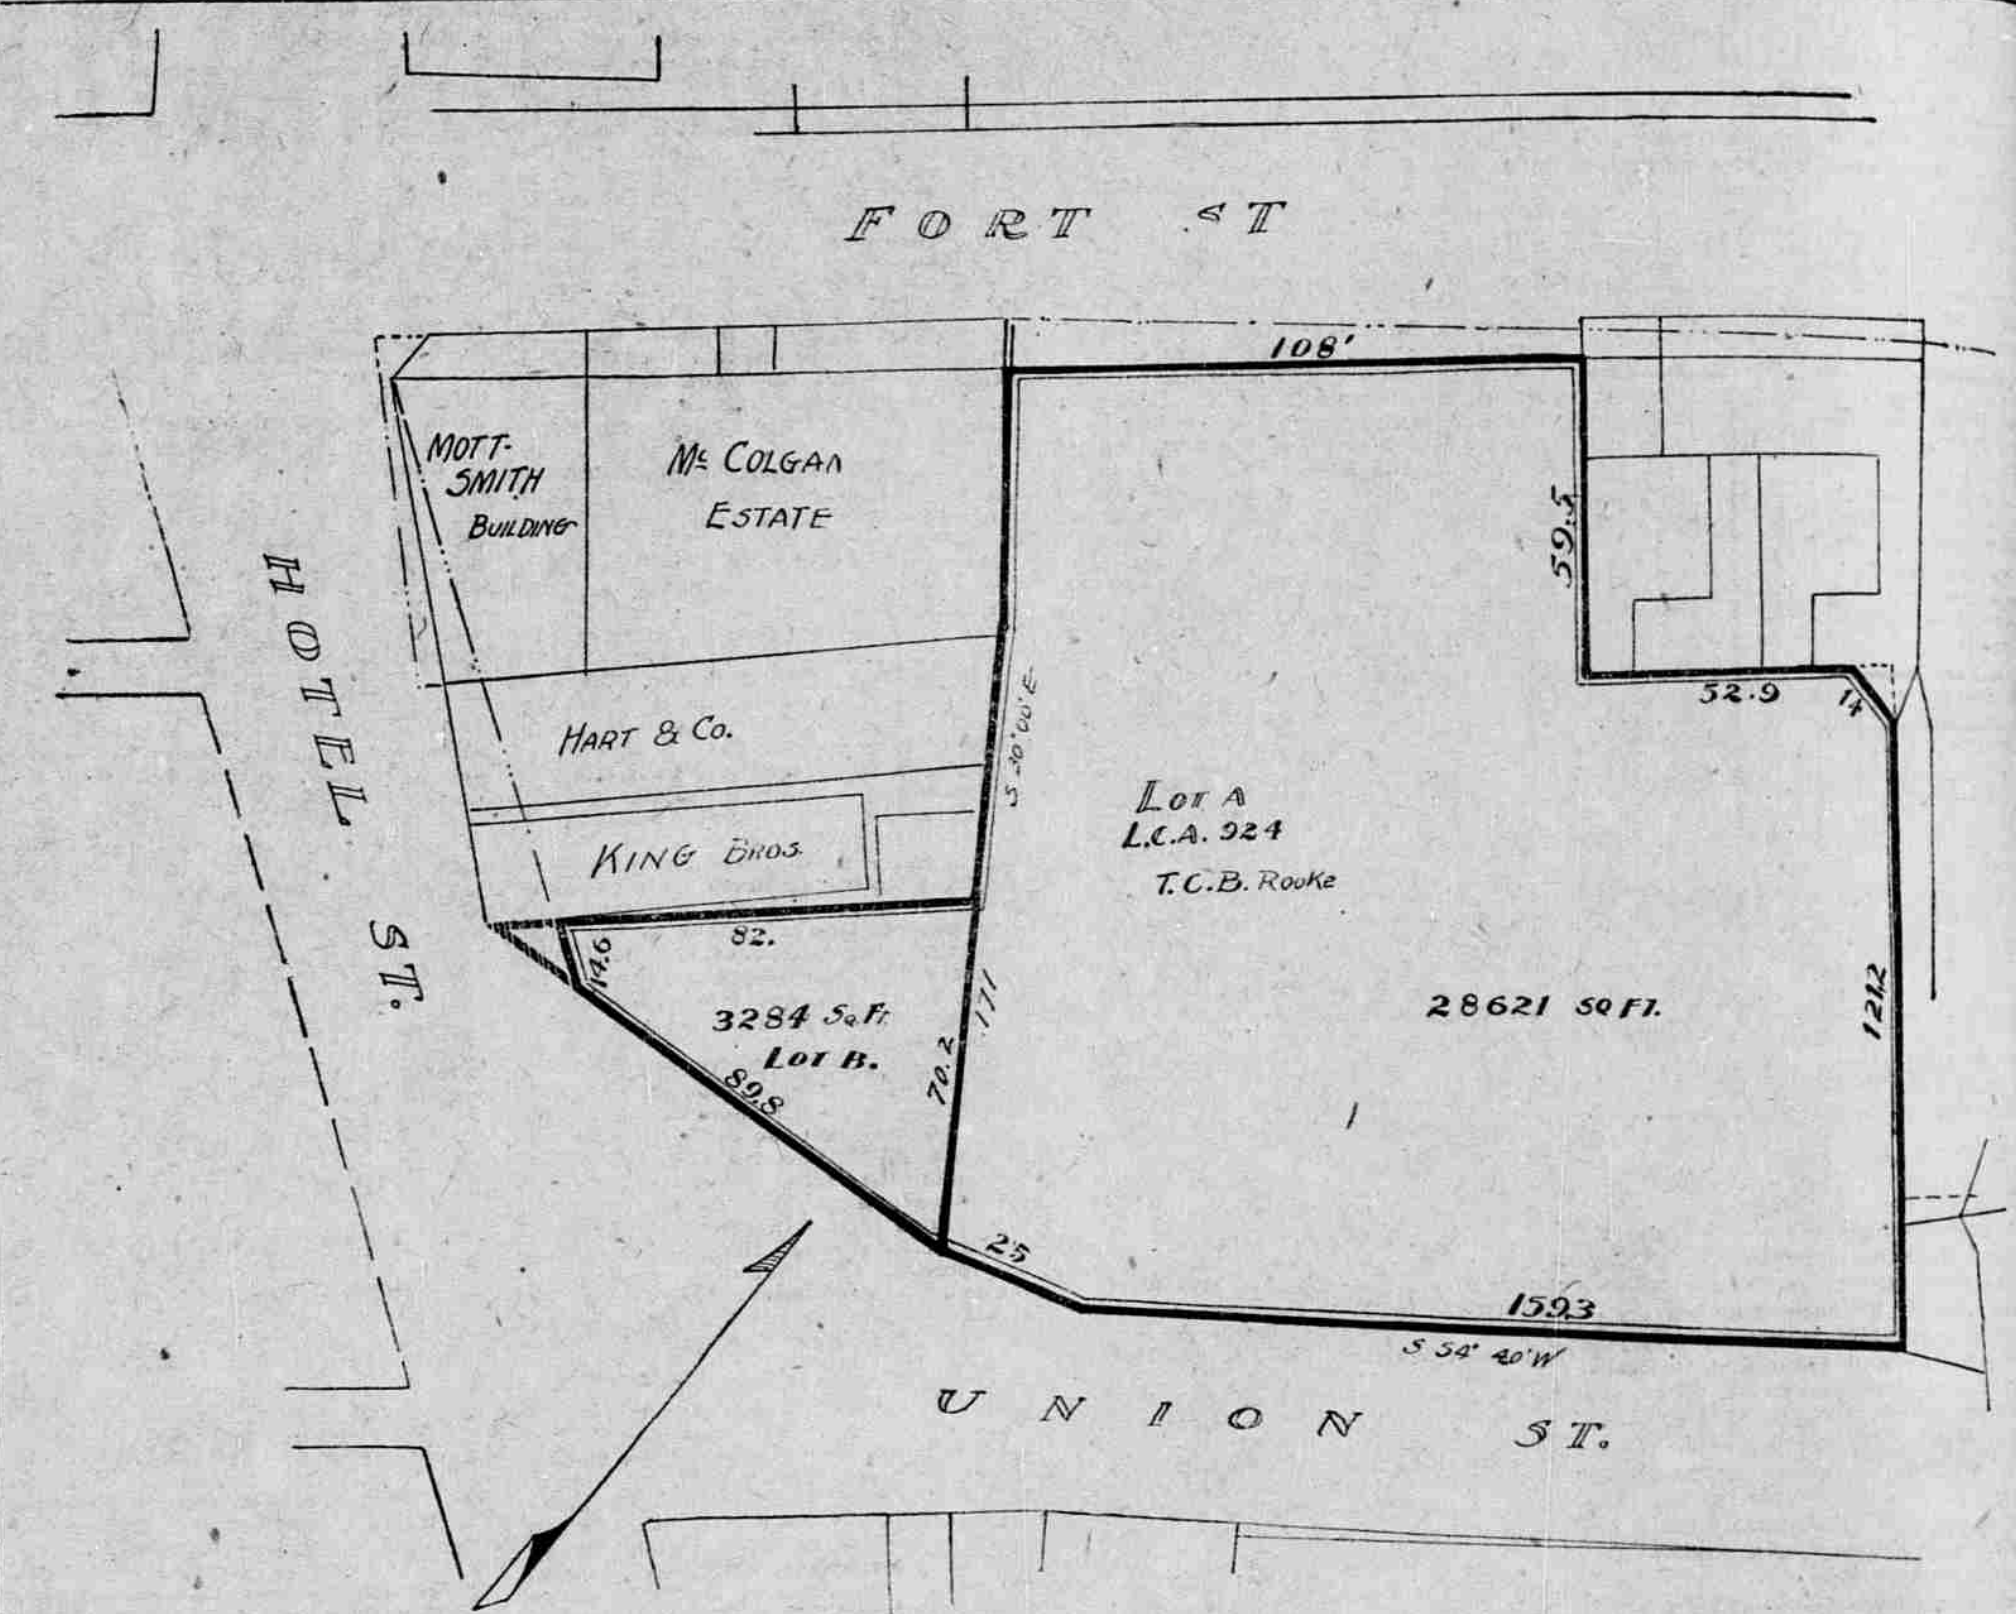

It was given out last night that E. S. Gill would appear in the Circuit Court this morning to plead to an indictment for shooting Mortimer I. Stevens. The indictment, it was stated, charged Gill with "an assault with a weapon obviously and imminently dangerous to life."
